DAVID A. WELLS

the famous free trader, once told a friend, "If I had left my money in the Savings Bank I would be worth a great deal more."

Evidently he made some investments that did not turn out profitably. Thousands upon thousands have had the same experience. Mr. Wells probably had an acquaintance with as many men of affairs in his day as any citizen of the country, so if he would have been "worth a great deal more," isn't it a good plan for you to leave your money in the savings bank.

This bank solicits deposits and guarantees the depositors a safe, sane and conservative management, according to the law.

Savings banks can only invest in such securities as stipulated by law.

Last Call for 1910 Taxes.

Friday was the last day of the tax year, or for paying taxes on the list of 1910, and as a result Tax Collector J. B. Baldwin was rather busier than usual complying with the law by putting liens on the property of those who had not paid the tax on their real estate.

Storm Set Alarms to Ringing.

The fierce wind storm that accompanied the rain Friday, raised havoc with the telegraph and telephone wires to be crossed in some way a little before seven o'clock in the evening and ring in an alarm that was not known to the telegraph and telephone department. The damage was repaired quickly, and the bell soon ceased its ringing.

Fourth Case of Smallpox.

The fourth case of smallpox was reported Friday afternoon. Dr. W. P. S. Keating, city health officer, has quarantined the house, 41 High street, where the latest case, Charles E. Flagg, resides, with his wife and relatives. Mr. Flagg is a young man, about thirty, a moulder employed by the Vandermant Mfg. Co. on Mansfield street. He is a native of the city. The disease had its origin, all precautionary measures possible will be taken with this latest case, as was done in the three other cases, two of which are doing well and the third in as good shape as could be expected.

The First Spiritualist society will hold services in Loome opera house Sunday, and the speaker will be Mrs. Mary S. Vanderbilt of Brooklyn, N. Y. The singing will be by C. Howard Miller, Miss Maybelle Taft, playing the piano. It will be the last time that Mrs. Vanderbilt will be here until May 12.

Charles H. Learned Thrown from Wagon.

Charles H. Learned of Mansfield Center, who drives a horse and buggy about five o'clock Thursday afternoon, was thrown from his wagon on Jackson street and sustained a scalp wound that rendered him unconscious. He was not seriously injured, however, and was able to return home Saturday from St. Joseph's hospital, where he was taken after the accident.

Mr. Learned's horse, just as he was passing a big four-horse team and just after Dr. Owen O'Neill had passed the two teams in his automobile, the horse jumped, the wagon interlocked with that of the four-horse hitch, a wheel of Mr. Learned's wagon was smashed, and the harness somewhat damaged. Mr. Learned was dragged a considerable distance, as the reins were wound firmly around his hands. Dr. O'Neill heard the crash and went to the injured man's assistance, and finding he was unconscious put him in his automobile and took him to the hospital, where he was given treatment.

Pranks of the Storm.

The heavy wind accompanying the severe rainstorm of Friday played pranks with umbrellas that were not strong ribbed, turning many of the weaker ones wrong side out. Hats that were not securely pinned on or jammed upon heads also took unnatural flights into the air.

LOUIS H. ARNOLD ILL.

Had to Be Taken to a Hospital from a New York Hotel.

News despatches sent out from New York Friday stated that Louis H. Arnold, who has just returned from several weeks' trip to Florida with his wife, was taken so violently ill that he had to be removed from the Grand Union hotel to a hospital. At the institution it required five men to hold him in restraint. It is believed that Mr. Arnold has gone insane temporarily. Judge W. A. Arnold, a brother of the afflicted man, received notice of his brother's illness and went to New York by the first train Friday morning. Mr. Arnold's health was somewhat impaired and he with his wife left for Florida several weeks ago in the hope of building up his constitution. The Arnolds were on their way home when Mr. Arnold was taken ill.

Alexander J. Campbell Very Ill.

Alexander J. Campbell, general manager of the Willimantic Gas & Electric Light Co. and of other local concerns in this state, is reported as very ill at his home in Waterbury and unable to transact any business. It is possible that his illness may hold up the signing of contracts with the local company for the lighting of the city's streets.

No Mercy for Negligent Husband.

Frank Wood of 75 Chapman street was arraigned in police court Friday morning on the charge of non-support and assault on his wife Thursday. During the trial it was brought out that he had given his wife but $1.25 in money since their marriage about two years ago, and had not contributed to her support during the past six months. Judgment was suspended on the charge of assault, but on the count of non-support Judge James A. Shea sentenced Wood to three months in jail with the alternative of being placed upon probation for six months and furnish a bond of $50 that he would contribute $1 weekly to his wife for the next six months. Up to a late hour Friday, Wood had not secured the bond, and may have to go to jail.

Local Notes.

There was no school in the lower grade Friday afternoon because of the severity of the storm.

A month's mind mass is to be celebrated for the repose of the soul of Margaret Murray at St. Joseph's church.

According to the return of Vital statics on file at the office of the town clerk there were 13 births and 14 marriages in the town of Windham during February.

The attendance in the highest department of the Windham street kindergarten has been very light the past week. Tuesday were six children, Wednesday five, Thursday four and Friday three present.

As soon as the weather will permit and the school board of the group the selection will get to work fixing up the state highways that have been badly cut up the past few weeks. The state roads will be fixed up first as they can be repaired more easily than the others, which are not as well constructed.

A man earning but $1.10 per day called at the office of the personal tax collector Friday and desired to pay his tax for 1911. He had paid his tax on the list for 1910, and when informed that he was over the age limit and therefore not liable, thanked the collector and left. He had more than $100 in his pocket than he had figured on.

DANIELSON

Burglar at W. E. Labelle's Store, Dayville, May Be Traced by Blood Stained Glove—High Vote in Quinebaug—Candidate for Warden Needed.

A burglary was reported Friday morning from Dayville, where the drug store of W. E. Labelle was broken into some time during the early hours of the morning. The burglar, after one o'clock, Mr. Labelle said Friday afternoon that at first general review of the stock did not show the loss to be large enough to talk about, although there may be goods missing from the many lines in the store.

State Policeman Robert T. Hurley of Hartford took up the trail of the burglar during Friday. One of the clues that is said to be in his possession is a blood stained glove. This glove evidently belonged to the crook who broke into the store. Indications are that more than one person was engaged on the job and that in all probability it was the work of amateurs.

The first attempt to get into the store was by way of the back door, but a failed, and the burglar retreated. There the front entrance was attacked with better success. A big piece was broken out of the heavy plate glass in the door and the rest was easy. Dr. Hurley had several similar breaks during the past three or four years, the impression being that all the jobs are chargeable to the same group of burglars.

Quinebaug Higher Than For Years

Freshet conditions prevailed along the course of the Quinebaug river Friday night and the usually placid stream was booming along at a level and with violence that threatened grave danger to property close to its banks. Rubbish of varied nature littered it and swollen surface as it hurried through Danielson and over the Main Street dam on its southward course.

The heavy storm of Tuesday and Wednesday put the river up to a high water mark that seldom reaches, and this was easily surpassed as Friday were on and the rain continued to sweep down in great quantities. Driftwood, ice and such waste as marks a flooded stream kept coming along and in one report was the story of the docking here of a coop, with some of its feathered occupants on the roof.

When the river was flooded high and wild Friday night and apt, as is the case with this stream to be worse this morning, the day after the storm, little had been said about the danger of the dams would go out or be badly damaged by the unusual torrents pouring over them. The fear was of property damage as the result of the overflow of the river from its usual course.

The Quinebaug is the most important of the streams in this part of the state and all along its course from the Massachusetts line the southward into New London county are located many important textile plants, giving employment to thousands of operatives. These operatives and the corporations they work for have the most fear from the flood conditions, liable to cause losses to them all.

Rev. Edwin Waldo Married Pierce and His Step-Sister.

The following extract from a Palm Beach dispatch printed in a New York paper of Friday becomes of local interest because of the fact that the Rev. Edwin Waldo mentioned was formerly of this town. His parental home, "Roy Ensworth Pierce, former husband of Bessie Chapman, and son of Henry Clay Pierce, oil millionaire of New York and St. Louis, eloped from Palm Beach Tuesday night with his step-sister, Miss Virginia Burrows. The couple went to West Palm Beach, where they were married by Rev. Edwin Waldo, a Congregational minister, after Rev. R. Aston Henry, an Episcopalian had refused to tie the knot.

According to Rev. Mr. Waldo, Miss Burrows pleaded with him to perform the ceremony, saying she and Pierce had been engaged for some time and wished to begin their honeymoon in the south.

The elder Pierce raised a rumpus when the news of the elopement came home. The young couple left last night for St. Augustine after a rainstorm all-day, with H. C. Pierce.

Fire Damage $25.

Damage that will amount to about $25 was caused by a fire late Thursday night in a henhouse on the F. L. Hopkins place at Athaugan. Prompt action by those who were called out to fight the fire prevented the blaze being communicated to nearby buildings more important and valuable than the one destroyed.

Wardens Want to Be Warden?

Anyone who wants to be warden of the borough of Danielson has just three more days to make the fact definitely or definitely known. As yet, following the announcement of Warden Frank P. Warren that he will not be a candidate for re-election, no man has clearly announced himself as a candidate, and one is wanted, needed, in fact. The annual caucus comes Tuesday evening. There will be few changes in the officials now serving, as there is no contest, but the office of warden is to be vacant and candidates will find this a favorable time to declare themselves.

To Speak For Sparks Schoolhouse

Away over in the northeastern section of the town of Killingly where is located the Sparks state school house and in that building a religious meeting is to be held to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon at which the address is to be made by Ensign Reynolds, who is assigned to do Salvation Army work in this section of New England.

No School Session Deceived Firemen

A "no-school" signal was blown in 11:30 Friday afternoon, and immediately recognized as notice of their release for the afternoon by the pupils, but some of the best firemen in the village booted it for the alarm station on the first blast of the call, and then had to get laughed at for their enthusiasm. Late in the afternoon a test call from box 4, the new station at the Connecticut Mills company's plant, was sent in, but that time the enthusiastic firemen just yawned, looked out on the pouring rain and said, "Let George do it."

Dancing Class Reception

Miss Alice Knight's dancing class reception was held in Phoenix theater Friday night. The reception was at 7:30 followed by dancing. Despite unfavorable weather conditions, there was a large attendance and a pleasant evening was enjoyed.

In spite of the storm, there was a good attendance at the meeting of the farmers' institute held in connection with the Putnam grand meeting in Odd Fellows' hall, Friday, beginning at 10:45 a. m., with an address of welcome delivered by A. J. Kennedy. At eleven o'clock Dr. J. E. Jenkins of the New Haven experiment station delivered an interesting address on Alfalfa and the Use of Lime.

Dinner was served at noon. The afternoon session opened at half-past one o'clock with an address by Prof. J. H. Trueman of the Connecticut agricultural college, his topic being Profitable Poultry Returns at Present Prices for Cattle Feed.

W. O. Rogers of Norwich spoke on Some of the Essential Points of Poultry Husbandry. Musical selections were interspersed throughout the program.

AFTER HOT STUFF.

Beggar for Peppermint or Jamaica Ginger Bothers Housekeepers.

Housekeepers have been annoyed this week by a man appearing at the door, claiming to be in great pain of seeking for peppermint or Jamaica ginger. Naturally the good wives and mothers of Putnam are all sympathetic and hasten to give the man either the ginger or peppermint and in many cases the alleged sufferer has taken half the contents of the bottle. It has been proven that after the impostor has secured a satisfactory amount of his medicine that he would sit or down in any vacant lot nearby and after a nap of two hours proceed to his trick again in another neighborhood. He has visited about all the localities in this city by this time.

Visited in Norwich.

Mrs. H. O. Thompson and two children were guests of relatives in Norwich Thursday. Dr. H. O. Thompson spent Thursday in Danielson.

J. F. Egan has been in Boston this week.
